Professor Akhtarul Wasey’s Lecture at K. A. Nizami Centre for Qur’anic Studies.

The Qur’anic Studies Forum on 07 December 2019, K. A. Nizami Centre for Quranic Studies organized a lecture on “Women in the Quran.” The lecture was delivered by the renowned Islamic scholar and speaker, Padma Shree Professor Akhtarul Wasey who is currently serving as the President of Maulana Azad University, Jodhpur, Rajasthan. Before speaking on the topic, Professor Wasey made a brief mention of some illustrious scholars of Quranic Studies from the Aligarh Muslim University. Professor Wasey discussed the Qur’anic verses related to women, arguing that Islam does not endorse any discrimination against women. He highlighted that the Qur’an includes a considerable discussion of female role models, such as Maryam and Pharaoh’s wife. He also debunked the misconception that Eve was responsible for the expulsion of Adam from the Paradise holding that the Qur’an either holds both of them responsible for their mistake or relates this disobedience only to Adam; nowhere in the Qur’an has this sin been exclusively attributed to Eve. Professor Wasey emphasized the equality of men and women in the Qur’anic perspective. He also highlighted the rights of women as mentioned in the Qur’an. He made insightful comments on the Qur’anic law of inheritance and argued that if the law is viewed in its entirety rather than in fragments, it proves to be more conducive to and empowering for women. He also discussed the various measures taken by the Prophet Muhammad (SAAS) for the empowerment of women.

At the end, Professor Saud Alam Qasmi and Professor Abdur Raheem Kidwai made some insightful comments about Professor Wasey’s lecture, enriching the discussion. The lecture was attended by both men and women. However, women outnumbered men, indicating the interest of contemporary Muslim women in finding their status and position in Islam.
