

68th Republic Day Celebrated at AMU Murshidabad Centre

AMU Murshidabad Centre celebrated the 68th Republic Day with nationalistic fervor and joy. Director of the Centre, Dr Badaruddoza hosted the tricolor in presence of a large number of faculty members, non-teaching staff and students. He congratulated the entire AMU Murshidabad family on the occasion of the birth of India as a Republic. Addressing the gathering he said that we all should adhere to the principles of our constitution. He further said that the framers of our constitution had toiled hard to build a secular democratic nation and it is now our prime duty to lead our country into this direction.

Strongly condemning the recent statement of some ill informed politicians that Murshidabad Centre is the breeding ground for terrorist, he said that such statements with malicious intents are aimed at dividing the society. Asking for unconditional apology from such politicians, he urged the administration to take strict action against them to set a precedent. Expressing agony over the entire episode he said that Aligarh Muslim University is spreading knowledge and education for more than a century now without any kind of discrimination. He said, “The doors of Murshidabad Centre are open for students from all castes, creeds and religions. Politicians should spare educational institutes, especially premier institutes like ours, from politics. We are here in this remote part of India to eradicate illiteracy and bring about development. Instead of commenting on our nationalism, these people should exercise their influence to get our funds released from Ministry of Human Resource Development. That would be true service to the nation.”

The flag hoisting was followed by singing oh national anthem and distribution of sweets.
