UPOA PG Instructional Course - 2013
8-10 November, 2013

Organized by
Department of Orthopaedic Surgery
J.N. Medical College
A.M.U., Aligarh
Dear postgraduate students,

After the successful completion of two PG Instructional Courses (2001 & 2005) the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery is once again inviting you to Aligarh for PG Instructional Course-2013 to be held from 8 -10 November, 2013.

The programme includes clinical lectures short and long cases and panel discussion etc.

Acknowledging your thirst for knowledge we provide you an opportunity to come abreast of the latest developments and a chance to interact with some of the most eminent personalities in the field of orthopaedics. We aim to prepare you for your PG examination including DNB.

A.M.U., an educational hub, is famous for its cultural heritage and traditional hospitality. The organizing committee is making every possible effort to live up to your expectations.

Your participation will be an honour for all of us. We look forward for an opportunity to have the privilege of receiving you in the land of Sir Syed Ahmad Khan.

With kind personal regards.
