Syllabus for MBBS

Paper wise Guidelines for course division in Surgery for MBBS Final Prof. Part-II

Paper-I will have two Sections

Paper-I (Section-I) (General Surgery)

Syllabus

2. Ulceration and Gangrene, Neoplasia, Cyst and Sinuses, Transplantation.

Paper-I (Section-II) Orthopaedics Surgery

Syllabus

1. Principles of healing and management of fractures of bones of upper and lower extremities including hand injuries, foot injuries and pelvic bone injuries, fractures, Dislocation of shoulder, hip and other joints, fracture dislocation of dorsal spine, Traumatic paraplegia.
2. Management of Associated Vascular and peripheral nerve injuries, Rehabilitation & Physiotherapy.
3. Amputations, Orthotics, Prosthetics, Low backache, CTEV, CDH & Perthis disease, Osteomyelitis, Arthritis, Rickets, Osteomalacia, Osteoporosis and post polio deformities, Gout.
4. Primary and Secondary Bone tumours.

Paper-II (General Surgery including Radiology, Dental Surgery & Anaesthesiology)

Syllabus

1. Disease of stomach, jejunum, small and large intestine, rectum and anal canal & abdominal trauma.
2. Diseases of Liver, Hepatobiliary apparatus, pancreas, portal hypertension and diseases of abdominal wall.
3. Diseases of thyroid and para-thyroid, salivary glands, adrenals, peripheral nerves, diseases of CNS including head injuries.
4. Diseases of kidney, Ureter, Bladder, Prostate, Urethra and male genital organs.
5. Surgical disease of infancy and childhood.
6. Surgical lesions of skin, skin grafting, hand infection and injuries, Fascio maxilllry defects and their repairs.
8. Diseases of oral cavity, teeth, jaw and gums.
9. Various anaesthetic techniques, Pre-anaesthetic medications, Anaesthetic gases and Oxygen therapy, Maintenance of airway, Muscle relaxants and their antidote, Brachial plexus, Epidural and spinal blocks, CVP line, Cardiac arrest and its resuscitation, CPR techniques (BCLS & ACLS).

Note:
1. Paper-II shall contain one question on allied subjects at 7, 8 & 9.
2. This division is however not guaranteed as this is only a guideline to the examiner and does not bind him.