Aligarh Muslim University

Situated 130 km south east of Delhi, was established by Sir Syed Ahmed Khan which became Aligarh Muslim University in 1920. It offers more than 300 courses in the traditional and modern branches of education having more than 30000 students about 1400 teachers and some 6000 non-teaching staff on its rolls, with 12 faculties in 98 departments, 5 colleges, 5 institutions, 2 polytechnics and 13 centres and 18 halls of residence with 73 hostels. It draws students from all corners of the world, especially Africa, West Asia and Southeast Asia and in some courses places are reserved for students from SAARC and Commonwealth countries.

The climate of Aligarh during the conference will be pleasant. Local transport facilities will be available to the delegates. Agra is situated 90 km south of Aligarh and famous for the Taj Mahal and Agra Fort. Mathura is Situated 60 km south west of Aligarh and famous for Lord Krishna's birthplace, Govardhan and Vrindavan.

Department of Zoology

Offering basic and modern courses at the undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral levels. The five specializations viz., Entomology, Parasitology, Fishery Sciences and Aquaculture, Nematology and Genetics have attained national and international recognition through various academic and research collaborations and the awards and honors received by its faculty members. Number of major and minor research projects on classical and molecular level of various agencies like UGC, DST, MoEF and UPCST are carried out in the department.

The objective of the conference is to facilitate recent trends in entomology through debate session, poster and oral presentation on different issues related to the diversity, systematics and molecular taxonomy. It will provide a forum for policy makers, academicians, researchers and budding Zoologist.
